BIGGEST STRENGTH Still developing Renaissance New York Times Square Hotel does not yet show a single dominant strength with enough comparable evidence in this period.	BIGGEST CONSTRAINT Not appearing consistently in AI answers The hotel appeared in at least one AI answer for 24.6% of the traveler needs we tested, but across all individual AI answers it appeared 7.7% of the time. In practical terms, AI recognizes the hotel as relevant for many types of trips, but a traveler will not consistently see it among the hotel options surfaced. Executive Conclusion

Renaissance New York Times Square Hotel's primary issue is entering AI consideration at all, especially for Adventure & Experiences.

What the Data Is Telling Us

AI Consideration is 7.7%, so the hotel appears in only a limited share of individual comparable responses. When the hotel is absent, New York Marriott Marquis repeatedly appears instead — a concentrated substitution pattern rather than a diffuse competitor list. Rank tactics have limited value until relevance improves. The binding constraint is becoming part of the answer set for the traveler needs the hotel currently misses.

Why It Matters

Fine-tuning rank against individual competitors will have limited value until the hotel becomes relevant in more of the traveler needs it currently misses. Entry problems and rank problems require different management attention. If leadership optimizes competitor comparisons first, the hotel can look busy while still missing the larger answer-set gap.

Where the Pattern Is Concentrated

Wellness shows the softest Scenario Capture (0.0%), while Business Travel remains stronger (38.5%). That contrast supports a concentrated softness reading — not a uniform demand failure. New York Marriott Marquis most often appears when the hotel is absent (33 scenarios) — useful for source and fact reconciliation, not as proof of cause. Reality Coverage is 35.3% (6/17 attributes). Material gaps include Fitness Center; Walking Distance to Broadway; Near Rockefeller Center.

What Management Should Focus On Now

Focus first on how the hotel is represented for Adventure & Experiences. Review whether the attributes, positioning, and use cases most relevant to those travelers are complete and consistently represented across priority sources. Treat competitor-rank tactics as secondary until entry improves.

What Not to Overreact To

No comparable prior official monitoring period is available yet. This period can be evaluated on its own; change over time is not shown.

What to Review Next

Compare evidence from scenarios where New York Marriott Marquis appears with the property information currently available for Renaissance New York Times Square Hotel. Check entry cues first — product type, occasion, and location framing — before broadening the review to secondary attributes.

2. Demand & Competitive Movement

Material Movement

No material movement rows in this period.

Demand Movement

Wellness is the clearest current-period softness at 0.0% Scenario Capture. Business Travel shows broader scenario coverage, suggesting the inclusion problem is concentrated rather than universal. These are absolute current-period levels — not period-over-period movement.

Competitive Movement

New York Marriott Marquis is the most frequently observed alternative when Renaissance New York Times Square Hotel is absent, appearing in 33 displaced scenarios. The Knickerbocker (32) and The Westin New York at Times Square (21) also appear frequently, indicating displacement is spread across multiple local alternatives rather than a single rival. Counts are observational and do not establish why displacement occurs.

COMPETITOR	DISPLACEMENT COUNT
New York Marriott Marquis	33
The Knickerbocker	32
The Westin New York at Times Square	21
The Civilian Hotel	14
Hard Rock Hotel New York	9

Competitive movement describes co-appearance and absence patterns in monitored answers. It does not establish causation.

Reality Coverage Context

Only 6 of 17 monitored property attributes are consistently recognized (35.3% Reality Coverage). Highest-severity gaps today include Fitness Center; Walking Distance to Broadway; Near Rockefeller Center. Prioritize attributes that overlap with weak traveler-need scenarios or displacement evidence — not every gap is equally material.
